100 Works of Art That Will Define Our Age
Grovier, Noyes Keller (Thames & Hudson, 2013-09-23)
Just as Picasso's Guernica or Gericault's Raft of the Medusa survive as powerful cultural documents of their time, there will be works from our own era that will endure for generations to come. Kelly Grovier curates a ...

Strong Stability and Host Specific Bacterial Community in Faeces of Ponies
Blackmore, Tina M.; Dugdale, Alex; Argo, Caroline McG.; Curtis, Gemma; Finloche, Eric; Harris, Pat A.; Worgan, Hilary J.; Girdwood, Susan E.; Dougal, Kirsty; Newbold, C. Jamie; McEwan, Neil R. (2013-09-11)
The horse, as a hindgut fermenter, is reliant on its intestinal bacterial population for efficient diet utilisation. However, sudden disturbance of this population can result in severe colic or laminitis, both of which may ...

Online validation and comparison of molfile and CML molecular atom-connection descriptors
Gkoutos, Georgios V; Rzepa, Henry S; Murray-Rust, Peter (2003-02-20)
We describe an online resource in the form of this journal article for comparing the molecular constitution of molecule descriptors expressed as either the MDL Molfile or CML (Chemical Markup Language, an XML language). ...

A resource for transforming HTML and molfile documents to XML compliant form
Gkoutos, Georgios V; Kenway, Philip R; Murray-Rust, Peter; Rzepa, Henry S; Wright, Michael (2001-03-30)
An on-line resource for transforming HTML and MDL-format Molfiles to digitally signed XML-conforming XHTML and CML is described. An option for adding meta-data as RDF (Resource Description Framework) is available, and the ...

The application of XML languages for integrating molecular resources
Gkoutos, Georgios V; Murray-Rust, Peter; Rzepa, Henry S; Viravaidya, Chulanapa; Wright, Michael (2001-11-09)
We review recent developments which employ extensible markup languages (XML) as information descriptors providing an unparalleled opportunity to achieve inter- and multi-disciplinary integration of molecular resources. We ...

A Mechanism for Creating Chemically Oriented Internet Search Channels
Gkoutos, Georgios V; Rzepa, Henry S (2000-04-25)
Searching the Internet is normally accomplished via global indices or portals, but because of relatively specialised nature of chemical queries, such portals are not often useful in this context. We introduce the concept ...

Hierarchical display of Chemical Data in Web Browsers
Gkoutos, Georgios V; Rzepa, Henry S; Wright, Michael (2000-04-25)
The article summarises the principle methods currently in use for supporting chemical content on Web pages, and introduces the new <object> element which is part of the HTML4 and XHTML specifications. Despite claiming ...

The law of succession : a lesson in how not to reform transnational law
Cox, Noel Stanley (2013)

A Macro-Micro Integrated Theoretical Model of Mass Participation in Genocide
Olusanya, Olaoluwa (2013-09)
Can general criminological theories of crime explain mass participation in genocide? Can seemingly conflicting theories be reconciled? And, if so, how? Only a small number of studies have attempted to explore the application ...

Social care and older prisoners
Williams, John (2013-09)
Summary: This article reviews the evidence available on the treatment of older prisoners within England and Wales who are the fastest growing group within prisons. It concentrates on the lack of available social care ...

Understanding Booksonomies: How and why are book taggers tagging?
Guyot, Aedín (Aberystwyth UniversityInformation Studies, 2013)
Abstract Tagging is an ever-growing feature of online systems. As more and more content is tagged by users, the resulting "booksonomies" grow and can become unwieldy. The design of tagging systems must take into account ...
The Importance of Language: Critically Assessing Norway’s New Law on Lone Wolf Terrorism
Lindahl, Sondre (Aberystwyth University/International Politics, 2013)
Abstract September 11 2001 changed the field of terrorism studies, and even though the world has known terrorism for a long time, this event seemed to redefine the term. The event resulted in a massive interest in terrorism ...
